

Visiting the Katonah Museum of Art

Visitor Code of Conduct

By reserving your timed ticket, you agree to adhere to the Visitor Code of Conduct and to play your part in keeping the Museum safe for both visitors and staff.

Health and Safety

- Indoors, masks are required for everyone over age 2, regardless of vaccination status.
- Outdoors, masks are optional for all.
- Hand sanitizer is available for your use when you enter the Museum and in the public areas.
 - If you are not feeling well or have been in close proximity to someone with COVID, please do not come to the Museum. (If you become ill after purchasing a ticket, please contact the Museum to reschedule your visit.)
- The contact information you provided when purchasing your ticket will be used if we need to notify you of any COVID-19 exposure. Likewise, should you become ill with COVID-19 following your visit, please notify the Museum as soon as possible.
- Museum staff will be cleaning and disinfecting all high-touch surfaces throughout the day.

Social Distancing

- Please maintain six feet between yourself, other visitors, and Museum staff.

Liability

By reserving tickets, you confirm that you are aware that visiting the Katonah Museum of Art includes risks arising from possible exposure to communicable diseases, including COVID-19. You knowingly and voluntarily accept this risk and assume full responsibility for any injury, illness, or other loss that you may sustain as a result.

Families

Jeila Gueramian's site-specific installation Let's Step Inside continues in the Learning Center this summer. Visitors of all ages are invited to lose themselves in this magical, alternative world and be transported back to a time and place of comfort. Guests are encouraged to experiment with a variety of crafts to learn about the techniques, materials and ideas explored by the international artists featured in the exhibition, Tradition Interrupted. This family-friendly space is open during regular museum hours and is free with Museum admission. Masks are recommended indoors for everyone over age 2, regardless of vaccination status.
